Dear Participants, Members, and Guests:

Welcome to the 48th Annual Meetings of the Illinois Economics Association!

IEA has a long tradition of providing opportunities to economics students from throughout the state, and many graduate students will be presenting their research during the conference. This year we are delighted to present 70 papers, workshops, and other events across 21 sessions, including the Fed Challenge and Graduate Student Paper competitions.

We are especially excited to have James Robinson, director of the Pearson Institute at the University of Chicago, as our Keynote Speaker this year. Professor Robinson is the renowned co-author of Why Nations Fail: The Origins of Power, Prosperity, and Poverty, and he will be speaking to us about his latest work on poverty, conflict, and economic growth.

Many people deserve recognition for their help and support in organizing this conference. We are grateful to DePaul University and the DePaul Economics Department for their financial support and for the use of their excellent facilities. Special thanks to Department Chair Tony Krautmann and to Steve Carlton for their financial, operational, and administrative assistance.

Pearson Higher Ed has generously sponsored the reception on Friday evening, and we encourage everyone to visit the Pearson display during the conference.

Thank you to Carol Martell for her help with the registration process, to Helen Roberts for organizing the Fed Challenge, and Richard Peck for organizing and judging the Graduate Student Paper competition. My deepest appreciation to Jin Man Lee for his leadership as IEA President, and to Past Presidents Jin Choi and Kent Grote, and Past President and current IEA Treasurer Mike Wenz, for their advice and guidance during the past year.

Finally, thanks to all of you for your participation that makes this conference possible. I am honored to be part of this year's event, and I hope you will join us again next year.

Sincerely,

Paul E. Peterson
IEA President-Elect
Department of Finance, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

LUNCHEON AND KEYNOTE ADDRESS ROOM 8005

“The Narrow Corridor to Liberty”
Dr. James Robinson, University of Chicago

Dr. James Robinson
Institute Director, The Pearson Institute
The Reverend Dr. Richard L. Pearson Professor of Global Conflict Studies and University Professor
Harris School of Public Policy, University of Chicago

A prominent political scientist and economist, Robinson has conducted influential research in the field of political and economic development and the factors that are the root causes of conflict. His work explores the underlying relationship between poverty and the institutions of a society and how institutions emerge out of political conflicts.

Drawing insights from game theory and global history, he employs rigorous statistical analysis and case studies to identify the political foundations of economic development and growth. His work has deepened the understanding of political institutions throughout the world.

Robinson has a particular interest in Latin America and Sub-Saharan Africa. He is widely recognized as the co-author of Why Nations Fail: The Origins of Power, Prosperity, and Poverty, with Daron Acemoglu, the Elizabeth and James Killian Professor of Economics at MIT. Translated into 32 languages since its publication in 2012, the book offers a unique historic exploration of why some countries have flourished economically while others have fallen into poverty. He has also written and coauthored numerous books and articles, including the acclaimed Economic Origins of Dictatorship and Democracy (also with Acemoglu).

Robinson served as an academic advisor to the World Bank’s 2017 World Development Report on Governance, on the board of the Global Development Network from January 2009 to December 2011, and on the Swedish Development Policy Council, a committee advising the Swedish Foreign Minister on Sweden’s international development policy, from 2007 to 2010.
