Summary

A course on computer systems topics, focusing on machine-level programming and architecture and their relevance for application programming. Information representations, assembly language, C programming, and debuggers, processor architecture.

Texts

During the majority of the course, we will be using the Bryant and O'Hallaron text.

Grading

The grade breakdown will be as follows:

- 5-6 Homeworks 45%
- Midterm 25%
- Final Exam 30%

The grading scale will be determined by a curve. The cutoffs will be no higher than the following: 90-100, A; 80-89.99, B; 70-79.99, C; 60-69.99, D; 0-59.99, F. Plusses and minuses will be given at the high/low ends of each grade range (no A+'s or D-‘s).

You should expect each assignment to be graded approximately 1 week after its due date.
Prerequisites
(CSC 383 or CSC 393 or CSC 300) and Math 140

Late policy
To be considered on time, an assignment must be turned in by the beginning of class on its due date. Late submissions may be turned in up to 3 days late; however, late assignments will be penalized 5 points (out of 100) for each day that they are late. Late submissions will not be accepted if they are more than 3 days late.

Policy on working together
You may feel free to discuss assignments with other students or with a tutor at a general level. However, when it comes to actually writing answers to written problems, writing code, or solving assignment problems, you may not work with others, with the exception of asking the tutors (or me) for debugging help. It has been my experience that if you write code or homework solutions together with another student, or copy from a friend's old assignment, or if a tutor writes your homework for you, you will be caught. Any violations of this policy will be dealt with very seriously.

Changes to Syllabus
This syllabus is subject to change as necessary during the quarter. If a change occurs, it will be thoroughly addressed during class, posted under Announcements in D2L and sent via email.

Online Course Evaluations
Evaluations are a way for students to provide valuable feedback regarding their instructor and the course. Detailed feedback will enable the instructor to continuously tailor teaching methods and course content to meet the learning goals of the course and the academic needs of the students. They are a requirement of the course and are key to continue to provide you with the highest quality of teaching. The evaluations are anonymous; the instructor and administration do not track who entered what responses. A program is used to check if the student completed the evaluations, but the evaluation is completely separate from the student's identity. Since 100% participation is our goal, students are sent periodic reminders over three weeks. Students do not receive reminders once they complete the evaluation. Students complete the evaluation online in CampusConnect.

Academic Integrity and Plagiarism
This course will be subject to the university's academic integrity policy. More information can be found at http://academicintegrity.depaul.edu/ If you have any questions be sure to consult with your professor.

Academic Policies
All students are required to manage their class schedules each term in accordance with the deadlines for enrolling and withdrawing as indicated in the University Academic Calendar. Information on enrollment, withdrawal, grading and incompletes can be found at http://www.cdm.depaul.edu/Current%20Students/Pages/PoliciesandProcedures.aspx.

Students with Disabilities
Students who feel they may need an accommodation based on the impact of a disability should contact the instructor privately to discuss their specific needs. All discussions will remain confidential. To ensure that you receive the most appropriate accommodation based on your needs, contact the instructor as early as possible in the quarter (preferably within the first week of class), and make sure that you have contacted the Center for Students with Disabilities (CSD) at:
Lewis Center 1420, 25 East Jackson Blvd.
