M.S. in Accountancy

Learning Outcomes

Graduates will:

- Exhibit sophisticated knowledge of accounting, auditing, and tax standards and regulations.

- Understand the ethical and regulatory standards within an accounting context.

- Demonstrate an understanding of international accounting standards.

- Apply knowledge in new and unfamiliar circumstances through a conceptual understanding of accounting policies and theory.

- Resolve accounting issues through their understanding, knowledge, and application of research methods and databases.

- Effectively contribute to a team’s performance as the team addresses practical business situations and problems.

- Communicate effectively both orally and in writing.

- Have a sophisticated understanding of internal auditing, corporate governance, and internal control.

- Be familiar with data analysis.

- Be able to apply accounting information systems knowledge in new and unfamiliar circumstances through a conceptual understanding of the role of information technology in accounting information systems and decision-making.

- Be able to recognize and apply relevant ethical standards in the context of fraud and internal auditing.

- Be able to communicate effectively both orally and in writing.

- Be able to demonstrate an understanding of audit and fraud issues from an international perspective.