M.S. in Human Resources

Learning Outcomes

Graduates will:

- Be able to use analytical and problem-solving skills in decision making.

- Be able to recognize and analyze ethical and legal problems within applied business situations, choose a resolution, and justify that ethical choice.

- Be knowledgeable about the differences among global economies, institutions, and cultures and will understand the implications these have on global management.

- Produce a coherent written statement and oral presentation of the analysis of a complex business issue.

- Exhibit sophisticated knowledge of HR/business management practices leading to applicable skills in relevant areas (e.g., selection, training, compensation, and performance management) that leads to professional HR career-related success.

Last Update: 2014