M.S. in Wealth Management

Learning Outcomes

Graduates will:

- Acquire both knowledge and skills that are broad, deep, and necessary to fulfill their professional goals.

- Be able to use analytical and decision-making skills to solve problems encountered by individuals with respect to the preservation and enhancement of wealth.

- Be able to produce a coherent written document and oral presentation of the analysis of a complex wealth management issue.

- Be able to develop the foundation to think about and address ethical issues in the context of financial markets and relationships with clients.

- Be able to identify opportunities and risks from international investment as well as the implications of varying tax systems across countries.