M.S. in Advanced Practice Nursing

Learning Outcomes

Students will be able to:

- Analyze nursing concepts, models, theories, and research for meaning and relevance to population-based advanced practice nursing.
- Develop a personal philosophy of advanced practice nursing that appreciates nursing’s heritage as well as its future.
- Advocate for the diversity and harmony of each unitary human being in mutual process with the environment.
- Contribute to excellence in patient care and advances in nursing knowledge through expert advanced practice nursing, systematic inquiry, planned innovation, and dissemination of information to consumer and professional audiences.
- Assume a leadership role in organizations and the profession for protection of the public health and sound management of health care resources.
- Demonstrate autonomy, integrity and social justice in advanced practice nursing roles.
- Synthesize a personal/professional ethical and moral standard for advanced practice nursing in service to a multicultural society.
- Use information systems and technology to improve patient care outcomes in advanced practice nursing.