Ed. D. in Educational Leadership

Learning Outcomes

Students should:

- Be able to demonstrate interpretive, normative, critical understanding of educational phenomenon and/or praxis through the use of the humanities, social sciences and psychological sciences within the disciplinary foundations of education (anthropology of education, history of education, philosophy of education, psychology of education and sociology of education.)
- Demonstrate understanding of the human transformative dimensions of educational phenomenon and/or praxis at the level of the self and/or the social.
- Understand the dynamic nature of identity development and maintain the role of individual agency in bringing about personal and social transformation.
- Understand the multiple subjectivities and social relations of race, ethnicity, class, gender, and sexuality as they define a range of lived experiences and understand pedagogy as a project aimed at helping to realize the greatest range of possibilities for all youth irrespective of difference.
- Promote the success of all students by facilitating the development, articulation, implementation, and stewardship of a district vision of learning.
- Promote the success of all students by facilitating a vision of learning that is shared and supported by the district community.
- Promote the success of all students by advocating, nurturing, and sustaining a positive district culture.
- Promote the success of all students by advocating, nurturing, and sustaining effective instructional programs.
- Promote the success of all students by applying best practice to student learning.
- Promote the success of all students by designing comprehensive professional growth plans for staff.
- Promote the success of all students by ensuring management of the organization managing the organization, of a district in a way that promotes a safe, efficient, and effective learning environment.
- Promote the success of all students by ensuring management of managing the operations, and resources of a district in a way that promotes a safe, efficient, and effective learning environment.
- Promote the success of all students by understanding and using technology to enhance curriculum and student learning.
- Understand and use technology to enhance his/her own professional practice and school operations.
- Promote the success of all students by understanding, responding to, and influencing the larger political, social, economic, legal, and cultural context.
- Undertake independent inquiry and use technology as one tool to assist him or her in the overall inquiry process.
- Promote the success of all students by collaborating with families and community members, responding to diverse community interests and needs, and mobilizing community resources.
- Promote the success of all students by acting with integrity, and fairness.

Last Update: 2014
• Promote the success of all students by acting in an ethical manner.
• Take part in an internship. The internship provides significant opportunities for candidates to synthesize and apply the knowledge and practice and develop the skills identified in Standards 1-6 through substantial, sustained, standards-based work in real settings, planned and guided cooperatively by the institution and school district personnel for graduate credit.