B.A. in Modern Languages

Learning Outcomes

Students will be able to:

1. acquire proficiency in speaking, understanding, reading, and writing the studied language(s): they will be able to engage in conversations, interpret and create a variety of written texts, provide and obtain information, express feelings and emotions, and exchange opinions.

2. acquire knowledge of the cultures related to the studied language(s) with appropriate background in geography, history, politics, and society.

3. acquire knowledge of the literary traditions related to the studied language(s) along with techniques of literary and rhetorical analysis.

4. acquire basic notion in the history and theory of language and language study, including linguistics, sociolinguistics, language acquisition, and dialectology.

5. acquire basic notions in the theory and practice of translation and interpretation.