M.P.A. Public Administration

Learning Outcomes

Students will be able to:

- Clearly explain to stakeholders key public issues both orally and in writing and detail their impact on the public at large.
- Use an ethical framework to analyze an ethical dilemma within the political context of a government institution.
- Distinguish the interactive roles that government organizations play in the business and non-profit sectors in planning and delivering public services.
- Apply leadership theories and techniques in managing and governing a public organization.
- Develop a research question regarding a governmental issue, collect relevant data, and resolve the question.