Teacher Webinars

The Library will be holding a series of webinars on the Civil Rights Act of 1964. These webinars, produced in collaboration with the Teaching Tolerance program, will offer tips on integrating civil rights materials into your classroom. The first webinar, "Civil Rights and Analyzing Images" will take place on Thursday, January 22 at 4pm EST. Register here. And if you missed any of the LOC's teacher webinars from 2014, a complete archive can be found online.

Martin Luther King, Jr. and Civil Rights

Whether using America's Library or a Wise Guide to learn more about Martin Luther King, Jr., don't forget about the Civil Rights Exhibit currently on display at the Library, including the "learn more" tab, featuring links to other resources!

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

TIME, THE BELL-RINGER.—Some year, perhaps, they'll stop their noise long enough to hear the chimes.
